DRESS CODE

Dress Code Philosophy

The staff and administration at Franklin School believe that dress has the power to reflect the person. We contend that we, as people, often act as we dress. We want students to dress for success to every possible extent. It is realized that styles of dress change according to cultural expectations. While there may be nothing inherently wrong with a particular style of dress, teaching a child to conform to restrictions is good preparation for the work environment in future years.

Dress style principles were adopted so as to contribute in a positive way to instruction and learning. Student clothing should:

- Promote personal safety and personal hygiene
- Encourage positive behavior and respect for self and others
- Promote positive peer images
- Respect family and community standards and yet provide an outlet for individual expression

Clothing, which incorporates logos, graphic designs, pictures or text, must be appropriate for school. Contents which advertise or display subject matter relating to alcohol, drugs, tobacco use, inappropriate language and/or art work, racial slogans, sexually explicit slogans or pictures are prohibited. Clothing which is deemed by school administration to be distracting to the educational process will be prohibited. This applies to backpacks and notebooks as well.

If you are unsure whether or not a logo would be offensive or distracting to other people, encourage your child to reserve the item for another situation. It may be advisable to purchase clothing without logos, graphics, or sayings for school use.

ALL STUDENTS' JACKETS AND COATS SHOULD HAVE THEIR NAMES INSIDE IN PERMANENT MARKER.

Shoes must be worn at all times. Slip-ons may be worn as long as they do not pose a safety issue. Flip-flops are not recommended due to safety, especially during P.E. activities.

Hats and visors are not permitted to be worn on campus inside the school building. Hats and visors worn to and from home must be removed during school hours except for outside activities. Please remember that the purpose of a hat is to provide shade and protection from the sun. For this reason baseball caps should not be worn with the bill facing backwards. Bandannas, doo-rags, long belts, chains, hairnets, sweatbands and beanies are not permitted. Stocking caps are permitted only in cold weather and are not allowed to be worn in the classroom.

Layering of clothing to ensure modesty is encouraged but layers should not be removed. Jeans and pants must fit the natural waist. Pants and jeans must be free

SCHOOL SUPPLIES NEEDED FOR EACH STUDENT

Please refrain from sending extra items to school with your child that are not specifically requested by your child's teacher. Sadly, despite best intentions property at school can occasionally be lost or misused. Cluttering a desk or backpack with extra materials can contribute to this problem. Please feel free to set up a workstation in your home where your child can use these extra learning supplies.

COATS, SWEATERS AND LUNCH BOXES

After the start of school misplaced items such as coats, sweaters and lunch boxes tend to accumulate. Please be sure to identify your child's items with permanent marker so they can be identified and recovered. ALL coats remaining on campus over the winter break and again after school is dismissed for the year are donated.

DESK BOOKS

A book is required to be kept in each student's desk. We wish to teach our students that if they finish their work that they should continue to stretch their mind by reading a book or completing a previously incomplete assignment. Because of this, we are requiring that parents supply a book from home that they would like their child to read when work is finished.

Books should be changed frequently and marked with a name or other identification. Books will not be shared as all families may have different ideas of what is appropriate reading material. YOUR CHILD'S DESK BOOK IS TO BE READ BY YOUR CHILD ONLY. If you do not have a book available, your child will be able to choose one from the class/school library.
