Week #20 - Jan.11 to Jan. 15th

Hello Parents,

This week for Spalding Phonograms, we will be working on “ch, oo, ay/ai”. The students still need to keep working on the first 26 phonograms at home so we do not forget the sounds each letter makes. Thank you for your help on this.

I am sending home your students Log on information to a computer program for Math called “ Happy Numbers”. Your child's account is set up and ready to go. Please follow the directions to get logged on. Once you are in, your child will take a short assessment and then have lessons provided for them using this data. This is to help supplement our math in class. I think it will be fun and beneficial for the students.

Please continue to check your child's folder each night and make sure homework is being done. The homework is a review of concepts that we have studied in class , so your child should be able to complete it on their own. :-)
